

TRANSPORT SECURITY TECHNOLOGY GUIDE

As an official media partner of the transport security events listed below, Port Technology International has been asked to produce a security technology guide covering technologies and services that can be used in all aspects of transport security, including aviation, mass transit, maritime and supply chain. Two guides will be published in 2010, covering five international security events. Event distribution for each guide listed below.

Using the same editorial integrity and high quality presentation seen in the production of the Port Technology International quarterly journal, the Transport Security Technology guide (TSTG) will prove to be an invaluable reference guide for purchasers and specifiers.

Editorial

The scope of editorial covered in each guide includes: Passenger Screening (Metal, X-ray, Trace), RFID / Tracking and Seals, Biometrics and Access Control/ Smart ID, Perimeter Security and Intrusion Detection, Baggage and Cargo Screening (X-ray), CCTV / Surveillance Systems Integration, Aircraft Security Systems, Training and Consultancy, Blast Containment, CBRNE Detection, and other emerging technologies.

As a technical report on equipment and services, the Transport Security Technology guide is looking for contributions from key companies highlighting new product developments with detailed information for implementation and operation.
